

Take your life purpose up a notch

WOMEN'S GIFT-CENTERED LEADERSHIP CIRCLE

Be part of a different conversation – one that you have with peers of powerful women who share the desire to be in a deep inquiry into what is next for living more fully into their life purpose.

Starts January 2023

The Women's Gift-Centered Leadership Circle is a small group of 6-8 of accomplished women leaders who are heeding the call to redefine their pursuit of success. Success that includes new ways to live and lead more centered on giving their unique core gift to strengthen the communities they have chosen to serve AND experience more joy, meaning and fulfillment.

WHY GIFT-CENTERED LEADERSHIP? WHY NOW?

The clearer we can be about our core gift - the primary offering we have to give to others, the more we can contribute our gift in an intentional way. A sense of purpose is anchored in our core gift. Our core gift is the connecting thread between us and whatever we are serving that is larger than us. And it influences everything we do.

We live in an extraordinary time of change. Radically new solutions are needed for today's thorny challenges. We need strong women leaders fueled by their core gifts to enable them to lead differently than our predecessors and outmoded current models. Change can be a heavy lift without the right kind of support. There are abundant benefits of having a safe learning group where deep reflection, courageous conversation and new awareness are supported.

Participants will leave with:

- Greater confidence and self-awareness to freely BE their authentic self and to inspire others to do the same.
- Ways to recognize and strategize how to contribute their core gift aligned with all aspects of work and life.
- Sharpened problem solving and decision-making skills through a new lens.
- Greater skills to coach another from their purpose vs their problem that unleashes imagination and sparks greater engagement.
- Ways for creating work that is meaningful and purpose-driven for all.
- Support from each other in what we want to accomplish. The mark we want to leave on the world.

DESIGNED TO BE DIFFERENT

This first-of-its-kind offering is based on a unique blend of the Enneagram personality system and the only tool currently available to identify your core gift, based on 20 years of field-based practice, and anchored in positive psychology and ancient wisdom tradition.

In each circle session, you'll have compelling discussions aimed at nurturing your authentic leadership to unfold.

This is an investment in your leadership capacity, your health, and in the belief that leadership is about, more than anything else, the willingness to look inward before you look outward.

Additional disciplines we will lightly draw from include neuro-leadership, mindfulness, flow, and complexity theory.

"Your peer group are people with similar dreams, goals and worldviews.

They are people who will push you in exchange for being pushed, who will raise the bar and tell you the truth. They're not in your business, but they are in your shoes. Finding a peer group and working with them, intentionally and on a regular schedule, might be the single biggest boost your career can experience."

YOUR GUIDE Diane Ring

"The Women's Gift-Centered Leadership Circle is a way to give my core gift of helping others to nourish their purpose to unfold to its fullest expression in service to others."

"I am committed to support women leaders who seek to make their brightest contribution to help our world rise to new heights."

Diane

Diane's core values for life-long learning and personal growth has shaped her mission to advance leaders for the sake of creating a better world. She owns Ring Results, a leadership development and executive coaching firm in Austin, Texas where in partnership with her for-profit and non-profit clients she has developed some incredible solutions that solved nagging problems and helped many people and their organizations get better at what they do. She does this by helping leaders to lead from their core gifts and move past familiar habitual ways of leading and develop new skills, knowledge and mindsets.

Diane draws upon her deep professional experience, and her numerous studies/certifications in the areas of executive coaching, leadership, applied behavioral science and advanced adult learning.

Diane is a Certified Master Facilitator of the Core Gift Discovery™ process. The Enneagram personality system is her go-to instrument of choice, she has used it extensively since 2002 with leaders at all levels. Diane is a member of the global faculty for Integrative Enneagram Solutions where she trains practitioners on how to use the Enneagram and iEQ9 assessment to coach individuals and teams.

Supporting women leaders has been a passion of Diane's throughout her entire career. She has a long record of leading women's retreats, speaking at women's conferences and providing individual executive coaching for women leaders at all levels. She is a proud mother of two adult daughters who continuously inspire her for their courage to live big lives in service of others using their core gift.

"Your core gift is not a theory. It is alive and looking for ways to help you lead on a daily basis."
